

Wycombe Wanderers are delighted to kick off a brand-new commercial partnership with Hamilton Court FX, a leading finance specialist in foreign exchange risk management.

The London-based company will benefit from a number of advertising opportunities around Adams Park as well as introductions to businesses within the football club's commercial network.

Cameron Hunter, Partnerships Director at Hamilton Court FX, commented; "We're delighted to bring together two organisations who share the same values, ambition, resilience, and commitment to achieving excellence in their respective fields.

"Our goal is to strengthen the relationship between the club, its supporters and the wider business community".

Julie Hancock, the club's Head of Commercial, added: "It's really pleasing to bring on board a new partner in Hamilton Court FX, who've recognised the benefits of working with a professional football club and its extensive business network to help achieve its goals.

"We look forward to welcoming Cameron and all the team to Adams Park over the coming weeks, months and years to take the partnership from strength to strength."
